Investments are not FDIC-insured, are not guaranteed by Optum Bank®, and may lose value.

Optum Bank is not a broker-dealer or registered investment advisor, and does not provide investment advice or research concerning securities, make recommendations concerning securities or otherwise solicit securities transactions. Orders are accepted to effect transactions in securities only as an accommodation to HSA owner. All available mutual funds are offered by prospectus only, in accordance with the Custodial and Deposit Agreement. Prospectuses are available through the investment website or by contacting the fund directly. Investments are self-directed and HSA owners should read the prospectus carefully and consider the fund’s investment objectives, risks, charges, expenses, and fees before investing.

All funds may be purchased at net asset value (NAV). While mutual funds may charge load fees pursuant to the prospectus, such fees may not be charged to HSA owners. Some mutual funds impose surrender or redemption fees for withdrawals made within a certain period of time following an investment. Optum Bank and its affiliates receive compensation for providing various services to the funds, including distribution (12b-1) and sub-transfer agent fees but fees do not vary based on whether the bank accepted the order for the transaction or the quantity or price of the securities. See the Custodial and Deposit Agreement for more information.

Getting started

Your Optum Bank health savings account (HSA) is a smart way to pay for qualified medical expenses, with significant tax advantages. But did you know your HSA can play an even greater role in your overall wealth and retirement strategy? Once your HSA reaches a designated balance, also known as the investment threshold, you may choose to invest a portion of your HSA dollars in mutual funds.* The investment threshold is typically $2,000, but be sure to check your account for more details.

Investment capabilities

Optum® has partnered with industry-leading companies to provide a variety of competitive investment offerings. As an HSA account holder, you will have access to online education and research tools to help you buy and sell, exchange, and rebalance your portfolio.

You can access your HSA and the investment option by logging in to your account at optumbank.com. Your Optum Bank investment account includes:

- No trading fees
- Access to low expense ratio funds
- No-load or Load-Waived Funds
- No minimum initial investment amount required by mutual fund
- Ability to transfer between funds and re-allocate balances
- Ability to set up an automatic portfolio rebalance
- Recurring transfers functionality — allowing you to automatically sweep HSA funds into your investment account
- Access to prospectus and investment performance
- The HSA Asset Allocation Calculator: A tool to help you determine which funds may be best for you
- Up-to-date view of your HSA investments and personalized return information

Managing your HSA

You can manage your HSA investments by logging in to your account at optumbank.com. You can set up a one time or recurring transfer from your HSA into your investment account. When you set up your investment account, you’ll choose how you want the funds to be allocated among the available mutual funds. Once your account is established, you can change your investment elections, transfer funds and rebalance your account online. Log in at optumbank.com for access to tools such as the Asset Allocation Calculator to help decide what mutual fund elections to make based on asset class. It is always important to discuss with your financial advisor if investing with your HSA is right for you.
